A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Earl Winans Killed While Attempting to Board a Train.

Earl Winans, age 17 years past, son of George S. Winans, was terribly injured at Spearville, about noon, Tuesday, and died in a few hours afterwards. Earl attempted to board No. 31 freight train, which was going at about 30 miles an hour. On the first attempt to climb on the forward part of the train, he was thrown down without particular injury. He made the second attempt to get on the train and was thrown alongside the wheels, his body being rolled over and over and was struck by the oil boxes of the car wheels. His back bone was broken, the left ribs were crushed into the lungs and his left shoulder was severely bruised. He lived a few hours and was able to speak for a short time after being hurt. The accident occurred near the water tank at Spearville station.

Geo. S. Winans, father of the boy, was working at Wright, putting in a pair of platform scales for W. B. Smith, when he was informed of the accident. The boy was still living, but unconscious, when the father reached him. Mr. Winans brought the body of his son to his home in this city, Tuesday evening. The funeral took place this morning at 10 o'clock, from the family residence, Rev. D. McCormick, conducting the services.

Earl was working with his father at Wright and had attended a party near Spearville, Monday night. As he was coming into town on his return to Wright, with his brother, C. R. Winans, he saw the approaching train, and said he would try and get on the train if it slowed up. He seemed determined to make the attempt, with the fatal results following.

The sympathy of the people of Dodge City is extended to Mr. Winans and family in their terrible affliction. Only a few months ago an older son was stricken down at Monongahala, Pa., and brought here and buried; and the horrible manner in which the youngest son met his death makes the family's grief more poignant, and shocks the community with a terrible blow.

Earl Winans was an industrious boy, and was a great help to his father, who will feel his loss keenly. The sorrowing family has the sympathy of the people.

Sutton for Roosevelt.

Internal Revenue Collector M. W. Sutton arrived in the city this morning from Dodge City. He has been elected president of the Dodge City Roosevelt club. The constitution of the club provides for the nomination and election of Roosevelt to the presidency. Sutton acknowledges that the responsibility of the success or failure of the work falls on him. He also states that there is no politics in the movement so far as he is concerned personally. He doesn't know yet whether he will be relieved from the office of collector in time to accept any foreign post at the hands of Roosevelt should he be elected.—Leavenworth Times.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Notice of the death of the wife of Bro. J. P. Hinkley having been received, Dodge City Division No. 300, Order of Railway Conductors, request the following resolution published and a copy of same placed in their records.

Resolved, That the members of this Division extend to Bro. Hinkley our sincere sympathy in the loss of his beloved wife, and we also extend our sympathies to the children who are now deprived of the guiding influences and are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother.

The day is coming when men who drink, whether it be occasionally or habitually, will be debarred from positions of trust and responsibility. The disaster which cost so many lives in the sinking of the ship Islander is said to be due to a drunken pilot and a drunken captain. A street car accident in New York in which a dozen people were killed and wounded was caused by a drunken motorman. Drunkenness will be a bar to any position of trust. Men who drink have no place in positions of responsibility. Railroads have done more to bring about temperance than all the laws on the statute books. No drinking man can hold a position of trust on a railway in the country. They won't have them. It will be the same in all lines of business in a few years. This is a pushing age and men must hustle if they are to succeed. A man half drunk can not compete with the man who is sober. Corporations want the best brains in the country and they are willing to pay for them but they have no use for the man whose mental faculties are clouded by drink.—Leavenworth Times.

FORD EVENTS.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—C. W. Davis and wife returned to their home in Pueblo, Saturday.

—J. H. Henry and wife have gone on a visit to the eastern part of the State.

—O. B. Melia returned to State Normal, Saturday, to finish his college course.

—Wash Gross started on an overland trip south, Tuesday, and will go down in to Oklahoma.

—George Steele has repaired his barn and is now building a large barn. George is now a boomer.

—Jim Pendleton returned Monday from a trip to Missouri; visited his son Lewis and found lots of dust and dry times in old wet Missouri.

—Rev. Stromer, with his family, have moved to Ford, and will be found at home to friends in the parsonage formerly occupied by W. C. Van Horn.

—The young ladies of the banner class of the Congregational Sunday School gave a pleasant ice cream social at the hall last Friday evening and all present enjoyed themselves.

—The Misses Oia, Maude and Hattie Hollopeter who for several months have been taking a course as hospital nurses in a Chicago school, returned home Wednesday, for a vacation.

—William Wyly and wife of Lyon county, Kansas, are visiting C. E. Hatfield. Mrs. W. is a sister of Mrs. H. Mr. Wyly will look over the country with a view of purchasing some land.

—W. F. Elland, Rock Island agent at Ford, has gone on a western tour with his wife and child for the benefit of Mrs. Elland's health. Her many friends hope she will be restored by their change of scenery, journeyings, climate and associations.

—Masters Stanley and Lloyd Connaway, sons of Register Sam, spent a jolly time last week at the home of O. N. Nevins, in farm escapades, broncho riding and cowboy drill with the boys with no dark flowing waters in the Arkansas to make juvenile sports terrifying.

—Jim Melia took a few days rest after the thrilling days were over and revived the pleasure scenes down in Meade county and to see—well his looks on his return Monday bespoke a pleasant time. He is still in the bachelors' circle yet. Lay away your bells, shot guns and tin music boys and wait.

BUCKLIN BREEZES.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—Rev. P. O. Davis and family returned to their home in Arlington, Kansas, Saturday evening.

—Dr. J. C. Bredehoff's new four room residence on Center street, over on the west side, is moving along nicely under the supervision of J. W. Dellinger.

—Mrs. Hulbert and little daughter who have been visiting Mrs. Hulbert's sister, Mrs. A. H. Guerin, returned to their home in Wichita, Tuesday evening.

—The additions which G. W. Thompson is putting to his residence on south Main street is nearing completion and George and his wife will have a daisy home in which to spend their declining years.

—J. R. McBraver has his new house on Ford avenue ready for the plastering. He is improving his old house on the same street, by adding a new veranda and a few gallons of paint, which R. Hammer is carefully spreading over the outside of the building.

—J. H. Dellinger and son finished their season of threshing and pulled their machine into the shed last Saturday. They were out 45 days, and threshed 3,200 bushels, an average of a little over 700 bushels per day, for all of the time that they were out.

—N. E. Bloss' residence is almost completed. H. DeBann is putting on the finishing touches this week. Mr. Bloss will move into it in a few days and become a citizen of the west side. H. P. McCaustland will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Bloss on the corner of Oak street and Ford avenue.

—H. P. McCaustland sold a half section of land, lying about two miles and one half miles south and a half mile east of Bucklin, to A. J. Mathews, of Oklahoma, last Monday. Mr. Mathews expects to bring his family, stock and all of his belongings here within the next ten days and make this his future home.

—C. W. Boedecker has leased and taken charge of the St. Charles Hotel and consequently he is not rushing work on his new residence on south Main street. However it will soon be ready for the plastering. As Charley does not need it for himself now, we are informed that J. B. Milford will occupy it as soon as completed.

—H. P. McCaustland has traded J. A. Milors' farm, which is some six miles northwest of Bucklin, for a farm in Texas county, Mo. We understand that Mr. Milor intends to go to this Missouri farm. Texas county is in southern Missouri and I have heard that there were lots of people down there in the woods that do not know that the war of the rebellion is over, so look out, John, or you will have worse scrapping down there about politics than you ever had in old Ford.

—The trustees of the M. E. church have sold their lots on the corner of Front street and Ford avenue to G. W. Artwein and purchased to S. D. Aulls, four lots on the corner of Main and Maple streets. They have received the plans and specifications for their new church building and will begin the erection of the same as soon as the material can be got on the ground. The auditorium will be 28x40 feet, lecture room 16x20 feet, not a very large one but large enough for the present need and pocket books of our town.

—W. C. H. Zelett and family drove into Bucklin, Saturday. Mr. Hazelett was one of the first settlers here, but about twelve years ago he left here and went to the eastern part of the state where he has lived since until last spring when he went to Oklahoma to wait for the opening of the new lands down there, but when the drawing came off he drew a blank, so he pulled out for a better country, so he is here. Whether he will stay here permanently or not he has not determined, but as he owns a fine quarter section not far from town, we think that perhaps he will.

—We are glad to state that the sick folks here are getting along nicely. L. M. Taylor, who has been suffering with an attack of typhoid, for some weeks, is able to be up and around some, but he has not ventured out town yet but we expect to hear his cheery voice on our streets soon. Jessy Handy, who has been down with the same disease, is able to sit up some, but Jessie says that the doctor has just about starved him to death, consequently his legs are shaky and he don't do much sprinting yet.

—D. H. Scott and wife, of Topeka, came down from Dodge City, Tuesday morning. Mr. Scott and lady have been in this part of the state for the past week. They went to Larned, Kansas, Saturday, and came back here Tuesday. Mr. Scott is a real estate man, connected with the Rock Island Railway Company, and is taking a great interest in settling this part of the state with good reliable people from the more densely populated places in the east. Last week he had Mr. McCullison, of Shawnee county, Kansas, here looking at the country and he expects to locate him somewhere in this part of the state. Tuesday, he had Mr. Shields, of Washington, Ia., looking for a location. Mr. Shields is now a roadmaster on the Rock Island. He has been an employee of this company for thirty years.

—School opened here Monday morning and all things considered the attendance on the first day was satisfactory, the enrollment for that day being 28. That does not look like a very large number to us outsiders, but when we take into consideration the fact these 28 pupils range in age from the little tot of six years to the big tot of 18 years, some of whom have never been in school before, and some have been in school for years, then we can begin to realize that the teacher had enough to do to keep her awake that first day. There will probably be fifteen or twenty more enrolled during the next week or two, and Miss Howenstine will have all that she can do to keep the young ideas shooting in the right direction, but if the parents and others who are interested in the welfare of the children of our community will co-operate with her, we have no doubt but what she will succeed.

—Last Sunday we took a walk out to the place where the round house will soon be. There we saw several things that we did not know anything about, but later on meeting Yard Master Murphy, he explained some things to us, then we knew more than we did before. The approach to the coal chute is completed, and if they had only made the grade a little steeper what a famous coasting place it would have been. The grading at the round house grounds is completed. The main round house track is laid and material on the ground for other necessary tracks. Material for the turn table and round house are being unloaded there daily. It is expected that work on the round house will begin in a short time. The work of grading for additional side tracks north, and extending east and west of the depot, will be commenced in a few days. Altogether it looks as if that Division was coming sure enough, but don't get excited over it, the dry weather is here yet.

EAST END NOTES.

From the Spearville News, Aug. 30.

Hunting is the order of the day now. There are teams out nearly every day and the hunters are meeting with good success.

W. H. Beck blew himself to the tune of $61 at the Bandy sale. He purchased two cows at the price and cows are supposed to be low, too, but he secured two fine cows.

The way wheat comes in, this week beats all past records. There are from one to ten loads on the street almost every hour of the day. Cars cannot be secured to carry the wheat and the elevators are nearly full. If the Santa Fe Company does not get a move on it, the buyers will soon have to stop buying.

Miss Harriett Hobbie, of Dodge City has been employed to teach the school at Lewis, Kansas, at $50 per month. Ford County is making quite a reputation in an educational way. Last year we furnished teachers to Gray, Hodgeman, Clark, Edwards and Kiowa counties. Ford County develops the best teaching talent by paying sufficient wages to encourage teachers to prepare themselves to fill good positions.

The reunion at Dodge City, last week, was a success in every particular. There was a larger crowd there than has been in Dodge City for many a day. Every speaker advertised was present except Senator Harris who could not attend. Those in attendance were treated to such a flow of eloquence as is seldom enjoyed by the inhabitants of the short grass country. Besides the speaking almost every game imaginable was offered to the public and every inducement was given to the fool to part with his money and he parted with it in great quantities. Every gambling device on the ground was surrounded by a crowd of suckers waiting for a chance to give up their hard earned cash. There were a number of men who spent from $10 to $50 foolishly, whose families will suffer for the necessities of life, this winter, and they thought they were having a good time. The visiting members were so well pleased with their treatment that they voted unanimously to hold the reunion at the same place, next year.

GRAY COUNTY NEWS.

From the Cimarron Jacksonian, Aug. 23.

Oley Oleston says he will have about 100 bushels of peaches this year of good quality.

Some of our people in town are demonstrating that splendid gardens may be grown right through a period of drouth by wind-mill irrigation.

The school board has employed Mrs. Axton, who resides near Eninence in Garfield township, as teacher in the primary department of our city schools, at $30 a month. Mrs. Axton is recommended as a successful teacher.

Rev. Swords informs us that he will not go away to school as he had planned. He and a party of young friends at Syracuse left the fore part of the week for Kenton, Okla., to attend a revival meeting, going overland by wagon.

Philip Miller has a water works system of his own. He has a good wind mill that runs about all the time day and night and throws a good stream of water that he is using in irrigating his garden and fruit trees. Mrs. Miller has sold about $8 worth of cucumbers alone.

Monday afternoon a work train was run in on the house siding and a force of men put to work taking down one-half of the freight depot here, which, it is said will be taken to Garden City to enlarge the depot there. The depot here at Cimarron was greatly enlarged during the boom days, but was larger than needed at the present time.

Obituary.

Mrs. Susa Rankin, after a lingering illness, died at 6 p. m., Saturday, August 31. The funeral services were held in M. E. church, Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, and were conducted by Rev. D. McCormick, pastor. The singing was by the M. E. church choir.

The body was borne to the church from the residence of A. L. Guthrie, son-in-law of the deceased, by the pall bearers, J. L. Finley, D. Swinehart, J. C. Baird, G. S. Winans, P. M. Imel and E. D. Webb.

The choir opened the services by singing the hymn, "Asleep in Jesus." After prayer by Rev. D. McCormick, the choir sang, "Lead, Kindly Light." Mr. McCormick read the 14th chapter of St. John, the first verse of which reads, "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me." He chose the text from Philippians, 1-21: "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." He said in part: This view of death is peculiar to Christianity and to Christians in particular. God does not leave us to linger in the gloom. There were two or three things in this text to which he called attention. The real object of life was one. Another, if a man die shall he live again. This was a perplexing question until Christ came. At the grave of Lazarus he said he would live again. The great question is not one of life but of death. Socrates said the whole of life should be spent in learning how to die; but Jesus Christ showed us that the love of the erring, saying kind words and doing kind deeds was a preparation for death.

The real problem of life, therefore, is to know God, and Jesus Christ, whom he sent.

The greatest victories have not been won by the mailed hand in war, but by God's people. Think of this mother, now deceased, who, passing through the valley of the shadow of death, found no evil, but died in the satisfaction of having lived a sincere christian life. The christian looks upon death merely as a parting; and in heaven there is no farewell—simply a departure to be with Jesus.

To die is gain. There is no heartfelt feelings but joy and peace. It is gain, from the outlook, for there is no difficult problems which vexed us in younger years and perplexed us in later life. To the believer in Jesus Christ is gain. In conversation with Mrs. Rankin, some days before her death, Mr. McCormick said she had no fears, but was ready for the eternal place.

Mrs. Susa Hewett Rankin was born in Indiana, 1847, was married to Thompson Rankin, April 1866; moved to Kansas March, 1878; joined the M. E. church in West Lebanon, Ind., 1876. Ten children were born of this union, and nine survive her. Six were present at the funeral.

Mr. McCormick paid a tribute to the life and character of the deceased. How much she suffered for her children God only knows; but death has given her peace. She died without a cloud in her way.

The services closed by the choir singing Rock of Ages.

We desire to tender our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the last sickness and demise of our beloved mother, Mrs. S. Rankin. Also for the floral designs presented for the final offering.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, No pay. Price 25 cents.

To show the value of hay in these parts at this time a transaction on the Cimarron river the other day is an "eye opener." Chas. Shore sold his hay, standing in the bottoms for 85 per ton. After paying his money for the hay, the purchaser will have to stand the expense of cutting and stacking. The price of hay in the market will be on the scale as the price of potatoes.—Liberal News.

RAILROAD NEWS.

—The Santa Fe ice house is to be enlarged from 500 to 2,000 tons.

—Engineer W. A. Williams and wife will take a jaunt through Colorado, and will leave here this week.

—Ed Connell, a switchman, who was severely injured in the Santa Fe yards last winter, returned to his work Monday night. He was on half pay during his illness.

—The Wabash Railway has a contract to move 4,000,000 tons of iron and steel from the Carnegie steel works. In order to reach the works the Wabash purchased the Wheeling road for $7,000,000. The work of transporting this immense bulk means much labor.

—Going to the soldiers' reunion at Hutchinson, Samuel Proctor, of Edwards county, got his arm smashed off by a water tank pipe which hung too close to the car window. The Kinsley Mercury notes that the Santa Fe has paid Mr. Proctor $1,000, given Mrs. Proctor another $1,000, and paid all the expenses of the accident.

—The Santa Fe is experiencing another stock rush. Two reasons are assigned for the movement—high prices and short pastures. The cattle which are being sent to market are all of the beef variety, there being practically no demand for stockers and feeders. The rush of grain to market has eased up temporarily but it will begin again as soon as threshing from the stack gets well under way.—Topeka Capital.

—A change in the trademark of the Santa Fe means more work than most people imagine. Besides the substitution on freight cars and newspapers advertisements, where the public will see it most frequently, there is a great deal of printed matter in stock that will bear the words "Santa Fe Route" for some time. The stationer has stacks of envelopes, printed with the old style emblem. There are a great many window signs and other forms of advertising that are to be replaced. The old style cars of small capacity will be allowed to wear the old mark until they are retired except as it may be necessary to repaint them. All the new cars that are coming in from the recent orders bear the cross-in-circle emblem.

—The Santa Fe will be divided into two grand divisions and operated under two general superintendents on September 15th or October 1st. J. E. Hurley will be superintendent of the western grand division, with headquarters at La Junta, his jurisdiction extending over the main line and branch lines west of Newton, Kan. C. F. Renssieu will be superintendent of the eastern division, with headquarters at Topeka, and jurisdiction over the lines east of Newton.

This will probably result in the erection of an office building in La Junta much larger than at first contemplated, and the employment of a large clerical force in this city.—Tribune.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Rath & Bainbridge.

The Western News of Stockton urges the local farmers "to preserve Rooks county game for home use," by keeping hunters from trespassing on their premises. "There was a gang of hunters here from down east last week," the News states, "openly violating the laws of the state and riding with ruthless indifference over the rights and premises of the Rooks county farmers."

Cuts and Bruises Quickly Healed.
Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by Rath & Bainbridge.
